RECLAIMED BARNSIDING

Our Reclaimed Grey Barn Siding boards are perfect if you are looking to add some timber with a unique character and history to your home, featuring a range of earthy silver grey and brown tones which look great in interior spaces as well as exteriors.

Barn Siding is reclaimed from century-old barns and farm buildings across the vast plains of America that are dilapidated or no longer in use. After years of exposure to the elements, these boards have been coloured and weathered to their surroundings, thus creating a look and texture which cannot be replicated, with no two planks being the same!
